Welcome from the Director

Once again it's been my absolute pleasure to direct this years Murder Mystery written by Belladonna Mysteries. A tale of trouble, tantrums and murder on the high seas with an enthusiastic cast bringing the show to life. I hope you all enjoy the show as much as I have directing it, so take your seats onboard and let's make some waves!

Debbie Flavell

Trustee's Note

Thank you for joining us for our interactive murder mystery! As a small charity dedicated to bringing the benefits of theatre to the community, we rely on ticket sales to fund future productions and cover our overheads, so we couldn't do this without you. We would like to thank Evelina Julin, who is playing Captain Heather Headman, as she only took the part four weeks ago after another member had to pull out. Ian Fleetwood has yet again outdone himself on a shoestring budget to create great lighting and set, thank you for your willingness to give your talents and abilities to the group. Gary Tunnicliffe created great set dressing for us again and we thank him for helping us during such a difficult time for him personally. Debbie Flavell has been an amazing director, despite having tough issues to deal with in her personal life too, well done! Thank you to professional photographer, Danny Cronin, for freely giving his time and talents to create such fabulous photos for us. Find him at www.kre8photographic.co.uk. Thanks to Christine Hope for providing prizes and props. Thank you to Hayley Price for creating and running the sound effects, as well as Alan Westhead (a new member) for working on lighting and backstage. Thank you to the members of the cast for their enthusiasm, providing costumes and props, as well as helping with setting up and backstage. The way all our members dedicate their time, talents and resources to the group is always a wonderful thing to behold and we thank all of them! We hope you all enjoy the show that we have had such fun creating for you.
