

Director's Notes

Once again, I have the pleasure of directing Bispham CastAways' annual murder mystery. This year's production has once again been written by Miss Susan Hope of Belladonna Mysteries, and contains a cast of ten actors plus a mysterious figure. It will be a full evening of murderous antics and eye opening moments, not forgetting the prize quiz and culminating in the whodunnit reveal! To keep you fed, the hotpot supper (with veggie alternative) and dessert is provided by the outstanding Carousel Diner, which is based in Cleveleys.

In conclusion, I hope you have a wonderful evening and look forward to welcoming you to tonight's performance. Many thanks,

Debbie Flavell

Trustee's Welcome

Hello and welcome to Bispham CastAways! We are a small community theatre group, registered as a charitable incorporated company (RCN - 1182404). We are all volunteers and, as a small charity dedicated to bringing the benefits of theatre to the community, we rely on ticket sales to fund future productions, cover our overheads and to put towards essential equipment we are focusing our fundraising on. This means we couldn't do this without YOU, so thank you for joining us for our murder mystery tonight! Our amazing Ian Fleetwood has yet again created a set, lighting and sound system on a shoestring budget and with very little time, thank you for your eternal willingness to give your talents, abilities and time to the group. Debbie Flavell has been an amazing director, dealing with ten actors and delays galore! Well done! Thank you to Hayley Price for creating the brilliant sound effects for the show. Thank you to our photographer, Abbie Dodd of Abbie's Photography, for freely giving her time and talents to create such fabulous photos for us. Thanks to Christine Hope for providing prizes. Thank you to the members of the cast for their enthusiasm, providing costumes and props, as well as helping with setting up and backstage. The way all our members dedicate their time, talents and resources to the group is always a wonderful thing to behold and we thank all of them!

We hope you all enjoy the show that we have had such fun creating for you!

The Trustees

